

What is the influence of the medium density on the immersion depth of the float?

The float immersion depth is dependent on the medium density. All Barksdale float immersion depths are defined on the basis of the density 1.0 g/cm^3 .